CHLOE IS PRIDE OF THE ISLE

■ BY TOM BETTS

A MOTHER is fuming after her favourite bar turfed her out because her baby was crying.

Katy Goodship, 26, was asked to leave the bar of the Royal Albion Hotel in Broadstairs after her baby, Harry, started crying.

A female member of staff told her she had to leave the premises following customer complaints.

Katy, from St Peters, has been a regular customer at the Royal Albion's Ballard's Bar, but that all might change after her latest visit.

She was enjoying a cup of coffee with a friend at the hotel bar when she was told to leave the building by the staff member.

"I was in total shock," said Katy. "Harry wasn't crying at any real volume and I was told that I shouldn't be with him in the bar area as it was for adults only."

"Had he been crying for any length of time I might have understood, but it was just a few minutes. It was more of a grizzle than a cry, as he was trying to get off to sleep in his pram."

"I've been going there for years, since I was 17, and it's upsetting to think that they would treat a customer like that. I usually sit in the lounge area, but there was nowhere to sit so we were in the bar instead."

"The Albion markets itself on being a family-friendly establishment, but my friend who I was with said I would have to get used to it. It seems family-friendly establishments are only family-friendly until your baby starts crying."

Staff told Katy that she could re-enter the bar after eight-month-old Harry had gone to sleep.

Shepherd Neame declined to comment until the landlord, who is away at the moment, returned.

German mine is exploded off seafront

■ BY TOM BETTS

BOMB disposal experts exploded a powerful World War Two mine after it was hauled up in fishermen's nets.

Whitstable fishermen James Green and Phil Edwards unearthed a slightly more dangerous catch than they had planned while out fishing for southern skate aboard their boat Millenia at about 7.50pm on Thursday night.

The pair lowered the mine back into the depths and left a marker a mile offshore before a four-man team from the Royal Naval Bomb Disposal Unit was despatched from its base in Portsmouth to deal with the ordnance first thing next morning.

A counter charge was set to blow up the mine in 18 metres of water after divers had identified it as a German GC ground mine carrying a hefty 1,500lb of explosive.

Paul Bhathena, of South Diving Unit Two, said: "It's not very common to find these – they're probably the biggest ones we find. The plume went about 100ft in the air by 50ft."

Margate shook as the blast tore through the air just before 11am.

The plume could be seen rising from the sea off of Palm Bay from the shoreline and Thanet residents could feel the blast tremors from as far as two miles away.

Lifeboat crews in boats hundreds of metres away reported feeling the spray from the explosion.

Valerie Lamb, of Manning's Seafood, near Margate's stone pier, said: "I thought it was an earthquake at first. All the glasses shook hard in the cupboards."

A colleague added: "You wouldn't believe it would still be live after all this time."

The two-metre-long German GC mines were designed to sink allied ships during World War Two and was dropped by parachute into seas around the coast by the Luftwaffe.

Girlfriend 'punched and kicked'

DEAN STEW got in a lather when an appointment to look at a house to rent fell through.

Stew, 32, of Desborough Road, Cliftonville, was fed up hanging around outside the house and took it out on girlfriend Beverley Rhodes.

She waited another hour for the landlord to turn up, while Stew stormed off home with their baby.

When a soaked Miss Rhodes came home, a row erupted, Thanet magistrates were told.

Theresa Ruiz, prosecuting, said: "He was angry about dishes not being washed up. As she got changed they had a row and he punched her in the right thigh. He grabbed her arm and she fell to the floor.

"She started screaming for help as he kicked and punched her. He put his hand over her mouth, but as he did so police arrived and told him to open the front door."

Paul Shingleton, defending, said: "He [Stew] accepts he punched Miss Rhodes in the leg. He put his hand over her mouth because he was afraid she would wake the baby."

As a result of the incident, Stew, who was out of prison on licence for a previous offence, was sent back to jail.

Why Drive-By left an indelible mark

Get in gear for boy racer performance

■ BY JANE CONNOLLY

WHEELS squealed and engines roared on Monday night as an innovative theatre company geared up to take Margate by storm.

Three actors were putting two sports cars through their paces at Dreamland in rehearsal for the UK premier of Drive-By, a high-octane piece of performance art. Exploring the often volatile relationship between young people and cars, Drive-By offers a unique evening of spectacular drama.

Created by Ireland's Performance Corporation, the 25-minute show has been tailored for Dreamland as part of the Canterbury Festival. Audience members will arrive in their cars and watch the action, while the soundtrack is broadcast directly to their car radios.

Director Jo Mangan explained that she was inspired to create the show when her brother

THRILL RIDE: Drive-By is a piece of performance art about the culture of young people and their cars became involved in the 'boy racer' culture. She said: "I just couldn't relate to it, so the writer Tom Swift and I went drifting to find out what it was all about. We weren't specifically aiming to create sympathetic characters and the piece is non-narrative. It's more like a slice of life as a boy racer."

Prompted by the tragic deaths of Irish young people in road accidents, Mangan wanted to overcome technical difficulties to create a story that would get people thinking.

"We could be accused of glamourising the lifestyle, but we leave the ending hanging," she said. "I hope to take the audience on a thrill ride along with the characters and hopefully leave them with food for thought."

The three young actors believe the unique experience of watching theatre from their own driving seats will help the audience relate to the characters. Tadhg Murphy, 28, admitted that getting behind the wheel of his character's silver Nissan Skyline provided an addictive thrill.

He said: "Everyone takes something different from the story with every performance. But ideally we would like to make people laugh and cry."

There will be two performances every evening from tomorrow to Sunday.

Tickets cost £40 per car and advance booking is essential. For full details, visit the festival website at www.canterburyfestival.co.uk.

Man behind Turner design up for 'Oscar'

THE architect responsible for designing the much-debated Turner Contemporary Gallery is a candidate for a top design prize.

David Chipperfield is among six candidates for the 2007 Royal Institute of British Architects Stirling Prize – the industry's equivalent of an Oscar.

London-based Chipperfield was appointed to design the Turner Contemporary Gallery last year and has been nominated for his work on both the Americas Cup Building in Valencia, Spain, and the Museum of Modern Architecture in Marbach am Neckar, Germany.

The Turner Contemporary's director Victoria Pomery said: "I think it's fantastic news for Margate."

"For David to make the shortlist shows what a star in the architectural firmament he is and we should be proud to have him associated with Margate."

Ms Pomery added: "I've yet to see the finished plans and haven't had a sneak preview, but I'm excited to see the design. I really hope we're all going to be very impressed."

The previous design for the Turner Contemporary by Snohetta & Spence was abandoned.

Battling Chloe's bravery makes her the Pride of Britain

WHEN Chloe Gambrill said she wanted to run the Race for Life, she really meant it.

After her grandmother Wendy Parrish had fallen victim to breast cancer, Chloe decided to take part in the annual cancer research fundraiser to collect money for the cause.

However, fate dealt the Gambrill family, from Ramsgate, a cruel blow when Chloe was diagnosed with leukaemia just five weeks before race day in 2005, and her hopes of taking part looked all but lost.

But nine-year-old Chloe's fighting spirit proved more than anyone had anticipated.

Determined that the illness would not stop her from collecting the sponsorship money pledged to her by friends and family, she took part in the race anyway – even though she had an important operation and chemotherapy only days before.

Despite the trying conditions and finding the going tough, Chloe showed real Thanet spirit and battled through the pain barrier.

Not even collapsing with exhaustion one kilometre into the race could keep the youngster from completing the Quex Park course.

Mum Kelly, dad Darren and brother Charlie carried the youngster round in turns until she was able to walk across the finishing line to collect her money.

It was this courage and conviction that led race organisers to nominate her for a Pride of Britain award, an honour she picked up at the annual award ceremony on Tuesday last week.

TV stars Ant and Dec were on hand to present a near-speechless Chloe with her award in front of a genuinely star-studded audience including Prime Minister Gordon Brown, Kelly Holmes, JK Rowling, Barbara Windsor, Davina McCall, the Sugababes, Kelly Brook and Jamie Oliver.

Huge boost for cancer care

LAST week's royal opening of the QEQM's new cancer care unit has already proved a huge boost to the morale of both staff and patients.

The £1.65 million Viking Day Unit was opened by the Duke of Gloucester on Thursday, and manager Tracey Anderson said: "After 12 years of selfless fundraising it is amazing to finally be here."

"I have lots of respect for the people who worked so hard to make this actually happen."

"It's very calm and very tranquil here, so it has been such a boost for everyone involved."

The Duke, fresh from lunch at Ramsgate's Royal Temple Yacht Club, was welcomed by staff and patients at the hospital's new publicly-funded unit.

East Kent Health Trust chairman George Jenkins said: "It would be difficult to say the treatment or quality of care has improved because the staff are and have always been fantastic."

"However, the facilities and atmosphere here are creating the best opportunity for cancer care."

ATTACKER: Daniel Mazza murdered David Gavin

Brutal knife killer is jailed for life

A KNIFE-WIELDING killer was jailed for life yesterday (Tuesday) after being found guilty of murder.

Daniel Mazza, 24, of Clifton Gardens in Margate, had been convicted at Maidstone Crown Court of stabbing to death 26-year-old David Gavin.

The attack took place after an argument between the two men on March 14. Mr Gavin was later found dead at his home in Athelstan Road, Margate.

Mazza was sentenced to life imprisonment, with the judge stating he should serve at least 15 years before being eligible for parole.

Det Ins Dave Withers, of Kent police, said: "The conviction of Daniel Mazza for the murder of David Gavin brings an in-depth investigation to an end."

This investigation has seen more than 50 police officers and the Crown Prosecution Service worked together to put the evidence before the court and ensure Mazza is imprisoned for his brutal crime.

"Our sympathies are extended to David's family and friends. I would like to think the conviction of Daniel Mazza will allow them to bring closure to this part of their lives and begin to move forward."

Ramsgate harbour - lovely but silting is reportedly a problem

How hurricane almost destroyed caravan park

■ BY TOM BETTS

TWENTY years ago Kent was savaged by one of the worst storms ever to visit these shores.

Just hours after weatherman Michael Fish told the country not to worry, the Great Storm of 1987 howled across southern Britain.

The storm struck with such force that 23 people lost their lives as the winds battered the south of the country on October 16, with as many as 15 million trees lost to the wind.

Linda Sullivan, owner of the Two Chimneys caravan park near Birchington, is one Thanet resident who remembers the night well.

Her business, one particularly susceptible to such freakish high winds, was only in its third year of trading at the time.

She said: "In the early hours of the morning I could hear the noise outside and it's one of those moments where you're scared to look out because you're frightened of what you might find."

"However, I really had to go and check on the caravans, so I got the keys and went to look and of course there was a lot of damage."

"We had an Avery in the garden and it had gone – all the birds were gone."

"We had to go by torchlight as all the wires were down and the lights out."

Venturing out into the following morning's daylight, Linda was greeted by scenes of devastation.

Caravans had been tossed around like toy cars and much of her livelihood lay in ruins.

She said: "Touring caravans had been blown across to the other side of the field altogether – a couple of them were turned upside down.

TURNED OVER: The Great Storm of 1987 wreaked havoc at the Two Chimneys caravan park near Birchington Roofs were ripped off of some of the static caravans and trees were everywhere.

"It was quite frightening, to be honest. Then you have to start thinking about how are you going to start sorting everything out."

"It wasn't easy as the water, electricity and phones were out and so many trees had come down and the roads were blocked, especially here in Shottendane Road."

She continued: "We actually had people booked in to stay during the hurricane actually never showed up, which was a good job."

"One of the abiding memories I have of the days after is just seeing people with ladders absolutely everywhere."

She added: "One elderly woman who had booked to stay during the hurricane actually never showed up, which was a good job."

"Her caravan ended up in a tree, so it was just as well she didn't stay here as we might have been plucking her out of it the next day."

"Luckily the storm hit towards the end of the season, so trade wasn't as badly affected as it might have been."

REMEMBERING THE GREAT STORM

THE Great Storm of 1987 lashed across Margate with astonishing force.

The town's Helen Clark (pictured) was one person who remembers that October night well.

She told Yourthanet about her own memories of the howling winds.

She said: "I remember it quite clearly. It was warm for the time of the year, very warm and still, and then things started to happen as the evening wore on."

Helen could hardly believe what she saw when she woke up the next day.

"I was woken very early by the sound of tiles crashing down and the splintering of a huge poplar tree as that came down and it was all a bit worrying. When you finally opened the windows you saw all this devastation and realised what had happened."

"There was this moaning sound and the whole of the house seemed to be shaking and lifting – it was all quite frightening from such a still start."

OVERFLOW: Shops in Ramsgate are being damaged by flooding allegedly caused by blocked drains

Flooding is a drain on our businesses

■ BY TOM BETTS

SHOPKEEPERS say they are losing thousands of pounds in trade because Thanet council is not clearing the town's blocked drains.

Shops in the heart of Ramsgate are being forced to close their doors for fear of damage every time the heavens open.

As pools of water gather outside – and sometimes inside – shops such as Timpsons and camera shop Austin Russell in Harbour Street, traders are finding themselves out of pocket.

Austin Russell owner Roger Ayling took Yourthanet on a quick tour of the drain sites that he says are responsible for the problem.

Drains meant to carry water into the sewers were clearly full to the brim with dirt, rubbish and silt and had seemingly been like that for some time.

The steep incline of the streets with blocked drains directs water to the flat shopping area in Harbour Street, creating what Mr Ayling described as a lake.

He said: "This has happened several times this year due to lack of maintenance on the council's part."

"These gulleys and drains must be kept clear or there's nowhere for the water to go and it turns into a river."

"When it gets like that, the only place it has to go is the three drains outside our shops and they aren't adequate enough to take that much water."

"It's not only during torrential rain that they flood, but even when there's just a little bit of rain. Outside, the shop turns into a lake because none of the drains are functioning."

"Ramsgate is built up from the town centre, so water will inevitably flow downwards."

Mr Ayling, who has traded in the town for 15 years, said the damage caused by flooding had forced him to replace the shop's carpets three times this year alone, at his own expense.

In Timpsons, which was flooded just last week, the owner has given up on carpet altogether.

Mr Ayling said: "The council seems to be neglecting its duty and is wiping us out. It's just not good enough."

"Its excuses that cars are parked over the drains when it comes to clean them will not wash any more."

"There are pictures of me in the paper highlighting this problem 10 years ago. What is it playing at?"

Fright night is just a fortnight away

Halloween is just two weeks away, so it's the time for glowing pumpkins, witches' brooms and the increasingly contentious practice of trick-or-treat.

It's also the best night of the evening to sit in and stick a horror movie on the DVD player, so, with that in mind, we took a stroll along Margate High Street and asked the locals what was their scariest film.

Answers ranged from Nightmare on Elm Street to The Haunting to House of Wax. Whatever yours is, prepared to be scared!

NEWS IN BRIEF

Thief caught after hiding naked statue in hedge

BUNGLING thief Mark Lambert stole a nude statue from a front garden and hid it in a hedge.

Lambert, 49, from Seasalter, and an unnamed accomplice were seen in Birchington, putting the naked Venus into the boot of Lambert's Rover.

Theresa Ruiz, prosecuting at Thanet court, said Lambert wasn't the brightest of thieves because, as he was denying the theft, detectives found a picture of the statue on his mobile phone and the statue in a hedge at his home.

Lambert was caught after neighbours saw his car and took down its registration. Traffic police pulled him over and arrested him the next day.

Paul Goldspring, defending, said his client had mental health problems and learning difficulties.

He said: "He's got no idea why he took the statue or why he put it in the hedge."

"He didn't have a plan to sell it on or anything. This is the least sophisticated theft you can get."

Lambert was fined £150 and ordered to pay £60 plus a £15 victim surcharge.

Police arrested drunk woman for verbal abuse

WHEN foul-mouthed drunk Clare Lunn, 35, abused police once too often, she landed herself in jail.

Folkestone magistrates said guests in a hotel on the Leas complained about Lunn's shouting and swearing on September 18.

Police arrested Lunn, of Gloucester Avenue, Margate, after she swore at them.

Scott Neilson, defending, Lunn, said: "She had too much to drink and became aggressive."

Lunn admitted being drunk and disorderly, was fined £35 and ordered to pay a £15 surcharge with £60 costs.

Internet campaign to save popular wine bar

A FACEBOOK group has been started to save Harpers wine bar in Broadstairs.

The Save Harpers group has already attracted more than 680 members and is growing.

The campaign was started in the wake of news that magistrates have revoked the bar's licence to sell alcohol after allegations of anti-social behaviour.

The group's administrators are urging members to write letters to the authorities in support of the bar.

• Last week Yourthanet inadvertently used the wrong caption with a picture illustrating its Harpers story on page 5. We are happy to point out there is absolutely no connection between Harpers wine bar and grave vandalism in Ramsgate.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Recycling boost as council rolls out wheelie bins

FIVE thousand homes will join Thanet council's wheelie bin scheme this month.

Black-lidded bins full of non-recyclable materials will be collected during the council's first weekly collection between October 22-27.

Blue-lidded bins full of recyclable items will be collected the following week.

The bins were issued, mainly in Broadstairs, last month and it means the council has now issued the bins to 25,000 homes.

Cllr Shirley Tomlinson said: "The addition of another 5,000 homes to our wheeled bin scheme gives us the opportunity to deliver more of what matters most to local people."

Improvements

"That's cleaner streets as seagulls will no longer be able to attack the waste, and improvements in our recycling rates.

"Everyone joining the scheme has had information packs explaining how it will work and the chance to come along to our open day to find out more.

"Therefore, everyone should be familiar with what will happen over the next couple of weeks and the transition should be straightforward.

"All we need is for people to put out the right wheeled bin on the right day at the right time, before 6am at the right place, at the very front of their property."

QUESTION & ANSWER

DR STEVE LADYMAN

Q&A

Thanet South Labour MP Dr Steve Ladyman tells Tom Betts about his 10 years representing the constituency, what he has achieved, and what he thinks are the main issues facing the area

Q You have been an MP for Thanet South since 1983. Has it changed much over the years?

A I've lived in South Thanet since 1990, became a Thanet councillor in 1995 and the MP for South Thanet in 1997. I have seen clear signs it is becoming more prosperous and the regeneration projects have made an impact. Up to 1995 the area seemed to be going in the wrong direction and every week brought more job losses – but the Labour council that held power from 1995 to 2003 had an unrelenting approach to regeneration and they made a big difference. Also the Labour government in 1997 provided the economic conditions and investment in public services that has allowed us to halve unemployment in 10 years.

Q What made you want to be an MP for the area?

A I moved to the area in 1990 to work for Pfizer and fell in love the place. At that time, however, the effects of unemployment could be seen everywhere. Ramsgate was full of boarded-up shops and the local Tory politicians clearly had no idea how to regenerate the area. So I set out to make my home here and do something about the problems I saw.

Q Is it rewarding being an MP for the people of Thanet South?

A Very. But they are also very demanding. It's hard work and sometimes people have short memories. My office is local and all my staff are based in the constituency so we can be as responsive as possible to the concerns of people, but sometimes people expect miracles.

Q What are your favourite things about the area?

A The beaches are incredible, the towns are full of historic buildings and the area reeks of history. People can be a bit insular when they are thinking about regeneration, but they are also warm and friendly on a personal level.

Q Some people have negative opinions about Thanet. Do you think this is justified?

A No. It is an area that still has problems – unemployment has halved in 10 years, but we need to get it lower and there is a housing shortage – but our opportunities are huge. We have dual carriageways to the motorway network and our own port and airport, while we are only half an hour from the Port of Dover and only an hour from the Channel Tunnel. At the end of 2009, when the high-speed train starts, Ramsgate will have great access to London and the east and west coast mainlines as well as to Eurostar.

Q Are there any changes you would like to make to Thanet at the moment?

A I'd like to see us building more affordable and social housing, and we still desper-ly need to attract more jobs. I'm helping a number of entrepreneurs who have plans to bring businesses to the area and if they come off they'll make a big difference.

We also have a relatively low-skills workforce and I'd like to get more people into training or thinking about going back to college. I'd also like to see us develop a modern secondary school system to replace the one that we have now that focuses on the 20 per cent of kids who attend the local grammar schools at the expense of the other 80 per cent – which is why we have a low-skilled workforce in the district. Last but not least, there are parts of the district where anti-social behaviour is a problem and the police and community support officers are working hard to control the problem, so I'd like to give them more resources.

Q Do you feel you have achieved a lot as an MP?

A That is for others to judge – but since mine is one of the most marginal seats in the country and I've won the election three times now I guess someone must think so. There are certainly a lot of businesses investing in the area that wouldn't be doing so if I hadn't intervened and I've worked hard, with others, to ensure the Government has invested in schools such as the Marlowe Academy, the QEQM Hospital and transport projects such as the East Kent access road project and the high-speed train service. I've worked hard and most people, of all political parties, would credit me as hard-working and honest.

Trust's new treatment for a common disorder

MENTAL illness affects one in four people at some point in their lives, but often sufferers are written off or ignored by wider society.

But Kent and Medway director of mental health David Tamsitt aims to change that, and his team are spearheading a new, positive approach, focusing not just on treatment, but on fighting the stigma attached to mental illness and helping people cope with their problems as part of society.

Mr Tamsitt said: "Before, we have had a mainly biochemical approach to mental illness. We don't want to do away with traditional psychiatry, but we also want to focus on people's positive aspects, to help them move forward in their lives and maybe re-engage with jobs and relationships.

"There is a stigma attached. People have a fear of mental illness, whereas they are maybe more able to cope with a physical problem."

To make this possible, the trust is helping people stay in their own homes while coping with their illness by providing intensive home treatment. This takes the services to the patients, which include visits from psychiatrists and pharmacists, as well as carers.

Satisfactory

Mr Tamsitt said: "Dementia patients often get more disorientated if they are moved to a different location. If we can treat them at home, the outcomes are often much more satisfactory."

Mr Tamsitt has lived and worked in Kent all his life, starting out as a psychiatric nurse at St Augustine's Hospital in Chatham.

He said: "My father was a psychiatric nurse at the old St Augustine's Hospital, so I was exposed to it from a very early age. When I left school I didn't know which career I wanted to go in to and I'd done some casual work there, so it just happened from there."

Working his way up through the health service, Mr Tamsitt has seen attitudes to mental illness change over the years, but still maintains there is a long way to go. He said: "If you go back to when my career started, the whole attitude was that mental health was out of sight and out of mind. That has no place in today's society.

"People are still very concerned about talking about their experiences of mental health and its treatment. There is still a stigma attached to mental health problems, although some celebrity sufferers have started speaking out. Stephen Fry is a good example, he said he suffered from bi-polar disorder, but still managed to lead a normal life."

Kent and Medway Trust, which is responsible for the well being of more than 700,000 people and commands a budget of £46 million, is set to play a leading role in changing society's perception of mental illness as it applies for foundation status.

Instead of being issued funds from the Strategic Health Authority, foundation status would give the trust control over its budget and direction, not only from the top down.

Mr Tamsitt explained that patients and staff would elect a board of governors, and have a say in how money was spent. It would free the trust to explore new treatments and technologies, without having to comply so strictly with edicts from central government.

He said: "It is more democratic. If people want to get involved in running their mental health trust, they can."

If the application is successful, Kent and Medway Trust, one of the largest trusts in the country employing 12,000 staff, will become the first in the county to achieve foundation status.

In January, the trust is planning a series of road shows aimed at finding out what people want from the service and explain more about foundation status.

Mr Tamsitt said: "We are interested to hear from minority and hard to reach groups, and listen to what they want from the service."

FORWARD-THINKING: Kent and Medway director of mental health David Tamsitt is targeting the public's misconceptions

Dogs left to starve after owners fled

WHEN thugs came looking for Paul Rapps and Caroline Church, the pair fled and left behind their two rottweilers.

A month later, RSPCA officers raided their then home in Gillingham and found the dogs starving, emaciated and flea-ridden.

The couple had moved to Godwin Road in Cliftonville when officers from the animal cruelty charity caught up with them.

Thanet magistrates heard that the dogs, Rocky and Carla, were seriously underweight and a vet said he could see bones sticking out under their coats.

Andrew Wiles, prosecuting for the RSPCA, said that after they were freed the dogs ate ravenously.

He said: "The premises were in some disarray. There was no water for the animals to drink and they were very nervous.

"When the couple were interviewed they said they had given money and food to a man called Steve, but they didn't have his address or telephone number. They said they had given him enough for two weeks.

"Finally, they said he lived in a flat in Canterbury Street, Gillingham."

The RSPCA asked for £15,000 costs including vets' fees.

Harassment

Paul Goldspring, defending, said the couple had fled Gillingham because they had been subjected to continual harassment.

He said the couple had limited social skills, which made them forget about the dogs because they were more concerned about getting away from the people who were making their lives a misery.

He said: "This was neglect – not deliberate cruelty. These are people who are inadequate at dealing with life's stresses."

Rapps, 37, was given an 18-month supervision order and 100 hours' community service.

Church, 27, who is pregnant, was given a two-year conditional discharge and disqualified from keeping animals for two years. She was also ordered to pay £750 costs.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living on the Isle of Thanet...

When will island have a place for green tourism?

AS you look out at what Turner described as "the loveliest skies in Europe" to France's stunning Opal Coast just a few miles away, sometimes it's difficult to believe green tourism is increasingly an economic driver for Thanet's, Kent's and indeed the UK's economy.

Scientists have spelt out the effects of global warming – it will produce a significant, probably catastrophic, impact on human society and the wider environment – unless we take action as soon as possible.

Perhaps it is incumbent on Kent as the Garden of England to lead the way in developing strategies, policies and actions to reduce the greater global risk. Today not tomorrow.

Building has one of the greatest impacts on the environment – and the increasing urbanisation of Kent and Thanet is cause for concern as it is destroying the very thing that makes Kent unique: its stunning environment.

The picture is less robust in other areas of the economy, too.

How is tourism doing? Tourism in the county generates almost £2 billion (almost half KCC's annual budget) and 44 million visitors: nearly a coachload (sorry, eco-coachload!) of visitors for each Kent resident. This does not include the 'soft' impact of visitor word-of-mouth in increasing future visits and predisposition to all things Kent.

More than 97 per cent of businesses in Thanet are SMEs or micro-businesses (fewer than 10 employees) – this compares with a wider Kent average of 80 per cent SMEs and micro-businesses.

The tourism and visitor economy is crucial to these businesses – both directly for the ice cream parlours, pubs and restaurants – and also indirectly for the taxi firms, florists and so on.

But perhaps the overall impression of green tourism in Thanet is the lack of it.

Where, as a major instance, is the sustainable development of Thanet's 'blue cathedral' – Pegwell Bay, one of Europe's finest wildlife sites? Pegwell seems uniquely neglected – when it is perhaps the equal of the Camargue in France or parts of our own Lake District.

Sadly, Pegwell has seen better days. There are fewer shrimps (as famously tasted by Queen Victoria on her holidays), while there is the blight of the derelict Richborough power station and derelict hoverport.

Green tourism is vital for both the micro-economy and the macro-battle against global warming. Is it too much to ask for a wider green tourism initiative in Thanet and Kent?

Can we start with provisional World Heritage status for Pegwell Bay (we could unify Kent's world-class coast and cathedrals from Dover to Canterbury) before 2012?

TALK TIME

SUZY
GALE

Wife of Thanet North Tory MP Roger Gale, Suzy is a magistrate and founder of Animals Worldwide

What do you find most appealing about where you live?

We live in a rural village between Thanet and Canterbury surrounded by lovely people and there is a real spirit of community.

We brought up our three children there, one of whom still lives close by, and a second wants to move back to Kent as soon as possible. It is also surrounded by excellent dog-walking countryside, which is very important to us.

My workplace is in Birchington, at the heart of the Thanet North constituency, so I am also able to feel involved in the local community and with charities including EKUBS and the East Kent Animal Centre.

What would you like to see improve?

Better road systems before further development, but I feel this entire area of east Kent is on the up.

I spent my childhood in the Herne Bay area and have seen huge changes over the years, and welcome the plans for future regeneration.

We need to preserve the Herne Bay seafront - I have many happy memories of our beach hut over there - and Macari's ice cream parlour. And keep our local post offices open - they are vital. We also need to see the regeneration of central Margate completed.

Where would you advise someone to visit in Thanet?

Minnis Bay rockpool - Birchington/Westgate/Westbrook beach walks and cafés in summer and winter. Try the walk from Minnis Bay to Reculver. Sarre Mill and also the East Kent Animal Centre at Woodchurch. Any of our local beaches here in Thanet. They're clean, beautiful and a real credit to the area.

YOUR LETTERS

Harbour demo only touched the surface

LAST week's fun but pointed demonstration of how bad the silting at Ramsgate harbour has become merely covered the tip of the sandberg.

Already there are boats which cannot access the port at low tide.

Not just fishing and other commercial boats, but also the vessels of yachtsmen and sailors who have travelled the UK coast or crossed from Europe.

Ramsgate is an important stopping-off and arrival point for many visitors to the South East, and especially Thanet - if the silting continues, then Kent will no longer get that volume of tourism and marine business.

As a boat repairer and chandler, I can say it is a matter of great concern to me and my colleagues in Ramsgate and throughout the area.

The next all-tides-accessible harbour to the west is Eastbourne, farther round to the Thames it is Queenborough.

Ramsgate is an essential link in the chain of all coastal boaters, one which stands to be visited less if things are not changed.

Martin Smith
Malthouse Marine

Post offices used as political football

I'm amazed by the cynical opportunism shown by our local bandwagon-hopping, carpet-bagging Tories towards the issue of Post Office closures.

Was it not the Tories who privatised Post Office Counters Ltd - an action which eventually led to the current batch of closures?

Yes, the same Tories who are now shedding bucketloads of crocodile tears and organising petitions throughout the county - Tories who know very well they have little chance of reversing the proposed closures with a petition.

The way forward is for local people to engage fully in the forthcoming consultation on the potential changes, and come forward with reasoned arguments for retention.

The Post Office is losing £4 million per day and these losses cannot be allowed to continue indefinitely.

The old adage 'use it or lose it' is very relevant.

The Tories are cynically using post office closures as a political football.

Cllr Alan Poole
Labour, KCC member for Ramsgate

Westwood plans must be paid for

I have followed the recent correspondence on transport at Westwood and green issues in these pages with interest.

As the intent of several of these letters is evidently to attach blame to the Conservatives, perhaps we could revert to facts, rather than opinions.

Cllr Nicholson (last week's letters) is correct to say Labour left us plans for Westwood road improvements when the Conservatives regained control of the council in 2003.

Plans are, of course, simply pieces of paper with lines on them. Very nice they are, too, but you cannot spend plans. You have to pay for them.

The vital opportunity wasted by the Labour group was to negotiate with the developers for funding of those road plans as a return for a development worth tens of millions of pounds.

As regards the housing at Westwood, we have reversed that policy. Roads must be built before houses.

Cllr Nicholson is also correct to say green belt land has increased over the last 10 years. What he failed to mention is that almost all of it is in the North and that the biggest growth was between 1979 and 1993, under a Conservative government.

The building of 1,000 houses at Westwood is not itself directly a council creation. It is part of compliance with a Labour directive from central government that we plan for more than 5,000 new homes.

We have planned for more than three-quarters of these to be on brownfield sites.

The only question remaining, therefore, is not whether to plan for those 1,000 homes required, but where to put them.

I have grave reservations about Labour's policies on new housing. I also doubt Thanet's need for so many homes and its capacity to absorb them.

At least the siting at Westwood allows controlled and integrated development, rather than a hotch-potch of further infill building across the area.

Thanet's rapid development of a local plan to bow to Labour directives does at least have some advantages.

It gives us a policy and planning framework to resist unsuitable or overly intense development in areas not designated under the local plan.

I share Jennifer Matterface's concern (also last week's letters) over infill building and destruction of green space but cannot agree with her claim that the Conservatives want to "concrete over Thanet".

Just as Westwood Phase 1 roads and its housing are results of Labour decisions and directives, so is the designation of gardens as brownfield land a matter of Labour policy.

This places all gardens in my ward in Broadstairs in much the same category as a disused gasworks, so far as planning regulations are concerned.

It is an open invitation to demolish and build developments that may scar an area irretrievably.

Clr Ewen Cameron
Conservative, TDC, Bradstowe ward

We're not interested in party propaganda

Why do all the political parties treat the public as thick?

When they have their conferences, the continual jibes at the other parties are a waste of time.

The public isn't interested in what the other parties have or have not achieved – all they want to know is what the parties intend to do when in power.

Let's take Labour's record:

- Fighting two wars – with little help from the EU or other UN countries – is costing us billions. No end in sight.
- Closing fire stations to cut costs.
- Lack of policing on the streets outside cities. Therefore a rise in crime. Cost save.
- Privatised rail and power = soaring costs.
- No control on immigration = soaring costs.
- Not enough money for pensions, even though people have paid in all their working lives. Therefore, the Labour party wants to extend the age of retirement – but where are the jobs?

- NHS – no senior doctors working at holidays or weekends.
- House prices out of first-time buyers' reach.
- Refuse collections every two weeks. Cost save.

Now what of the opposition?

I am almost 62 and this opposition in Parliament has got to be the worst in my lifetime.

The public wants to know what they are going to do if they get power. Slagging off the other parties is not a policy.

Adrian Ottley
Birchington

Thanks for helping us with our campaign

We would like to publicly thank all the hard-working officers of the police, Immigration Service and Thanet council involved in the recent major crackdown operation against anti-social behaviour in Cliftonville West.

We also wish to thank the decent residents in our ward who supplied information through our surgeries, residents' meetings and numerous individual reports to ourselves and directly to the authorities concerned.

We understand the pressures on resources and were pleased to see so much activity in our ward.

Sadly, the problems affect a much wider area than the few roads involved and residents should be assured we will continue to press for further action.

Ray's road trip ready to swing beside seaside

X Factor finalist plays only Kent gig in Margate

RAY QUINN
Monday, October 29
Winter Gardens, Margate

AS a new bunch of hopefuls begin their bid for stardom, last year's X-Factor finalist Ray Quinn is already enjoying the limelight.

The charismatic Scouser is taking the music world by storm with his take on the classic swing tunes made popular by the likes of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Junior.

Still only 19, the actor-turned-singer released his self-titled debut album in March and is now on the road with his first solo tour.

He said: "I haven't performed in Kent before, but I'm really looking forward to it. There's going to be a lot of fantastic tunes, dancing and all-round family entertainment. I hope the audience enjoys the show as much as I will."

After being persuaded to audition for the ITV talent show by his family, Quinn impressed the judges at every round until he was dropped by mentor Simon Cowell just before the live stages.

His heartbreak lasted just minutes, as Cowell realised his mistake and dramatically reinstated the hopeful. "When Simon told me I was out of the competition, I just went to the toilet and cried," he said. "It was very hard to accept that my dream was over. Suddenly I was called back to the stage and Simon told me he'd made a mistake. That was the moment my life changed forever."

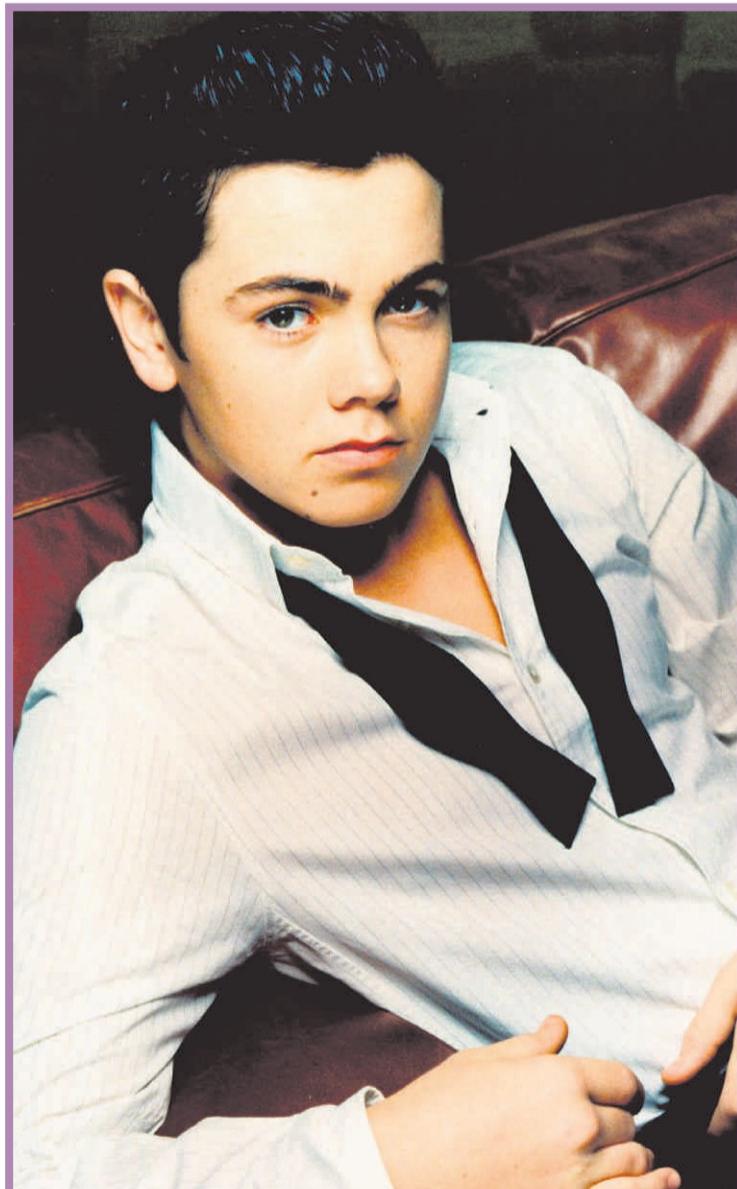

More than six million viewers voted for Quinn during the series and the popular crooner was never likely to slip back into obscurity, despite losing out to Leona Lewis in the final.

He had already proven himself as an accomplished actor and won awards for his harrowing portrayal of a young bullying victim in the Channel 4 soap Brookside.

One day, he would like to return to acting and has ambitions to appear in a West End musical production. But his current focus is on creating a tour to remember.

He said: "I don't get nervous. It must be because I'm so at home performing and it's something I've been doing for such a long time. I can't wait to get in front of the crowds."

The gig, which starts at 7.30pm, will be Quinn's only performance in Kent. Tickets cost £23.50. To book, phone the Winter Gardens box office on 01843 292795/296111 or visit www.margatewintergardens.co.uk.

THE timeless story of Snow White is brought vividly to life by the Rudolph Nureyev Russian State Ballet Academy.

Audiences will be enchanted by the stunning choreography and graceful beauty of the 40 talented young dancers, as the classic tale of love and jealousy unfolds.

The academy's version features elements of both the Brothers Grimm's tale and the beloved Disney interpretation with the seven trusty dwarves whistling their way to work and, of course, Snow White's handsome prince.

Recognised as one of the greatest dancers of the 20th century, Nureyev's legacy survives through the Russian academy.

Established in 1986, the academy is

COLIN FRY

Saturday, November 10

Winter Gardens, Margate

POPULAR medium Colin Fry will be demonstrating his extraordinary skills in Margate next month.

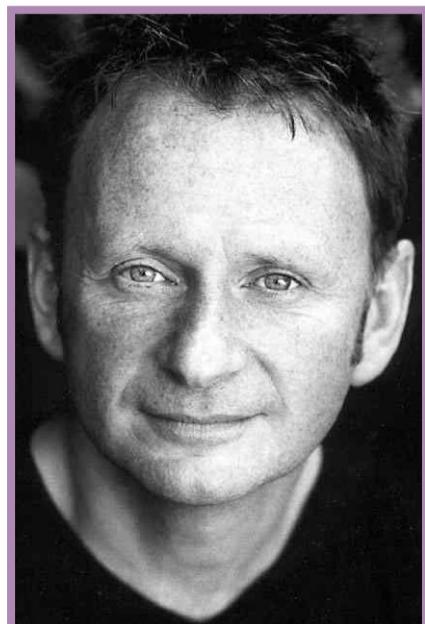

The international psychic was given his own show, Sixth Sense with Colin Fry, in 2003 and the programme is still broadcast on Living TV and FTV. He is also one third of The 3 Mediums, with Tony Stockwell and Derek Acorah, whose live show at the Hammersmith Apollo attracted huge viewing figures when broadcast four years ago.

As a schoolboy, Fry shocked a friend with his ability to create an illusion of lights. He claims to have noticed mirrors cracking when he was angry or frustrated, which resulted in his mother sending Fry to an experienced medium.

Learning to control his talent, Fry began giving private and public demonstrations by the age of 17.

He is now starring in a new series of Psychic Private Eyes with Tony Stockwell and TJ Higgs, which sees the mediums investigating unsolved crimes.

The show starts at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £16.50/£14.50. To book, phone the box office on 01843 292795/296111, or visit the website at www.margatewintergardens.co.uk.

ON GENERAL RELEASE

MR BROOKS (18)

KEVIN COSTNER stars as Earl Brooks, a man who has managed to keep his two incompatible worlds from crossing by controlling his cunning alter ego. Neither his wife or daughter could conceive of the truth, but as Mr Brooks succumbs to one more murderous urge, an amateur photographer witnesses the crime. Now, a terrifying game is unfolding where desire is dark and knowledge is deadly.

RATATOUILLE (U)

THE word 'masterpiece' is overused, but in the case of the computer-animated wizardry of Pixar, no other word will suffice. Director Brad Bird delivers a glorious modern-day fable about a diminutive hero who dares to pursue his lifelong ambition in Paris. Vocal performances are strong, from Peter O'Toole's oily reviewer with a penchant for caustic critique, to Patton Oswalt's loveable fur-ball.

RESIDENT EVIL: EXTINCTION (15)

RESIDENT EVIL EXTINCTION has a linear narrative that could have been culled from one of the video games, peppered at regular intervals with digitally-enhanced set pieces. Milla Jovovich's skimpily-clad babe maintains an air of serenity as the supporting characters are mown down.

Invasion of Nicole's heart

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

ON the surface she would seem to have it all, but despite beauty, fame, movie success and wealth actress Nicole Kidman admits none of it has protected her from the pain of heartbreak.

In fact, the Oscar-winning actress admits that since separating from ex-husband Tom Cruise she suffered a "deep loneliness".

"There's something about not sharing with someone else, if you don't have a partner, which leaves you feeling very alone," she said.

Not even a stellar career – with movie success in films such as Moulin Rouge!, The Others and her Oscar-winning turn in The Hours – could match her yearning for love.

"I always wanted someone to sweep me off my feet and have children with them," she said. "To me love was more important than my career every time."

Last year, she married country music singer Keith Urban and reveals that although she is already mum to adopted kids Bella, 14, and Connor, 12, she is keen to have more children.

It was those powerful maternal instincts which swayed Nicole towards her latest role in the new movie The Invasion.

The film is an update of Jack Finney's classic 50s sci-fi novel, Invasion Of The Body Snatchers, and stars Nicole as Carol Bennett, a psychiatrist whose world changes forever when the remnants of a space shuttle explosion rain down over the US just as her young son goes missing.

"To me, the crux of the story is this woman's journey in relation to her child," says Nicole. "The rush of adrenaline that comes with the desire to save this person you've given birth to."

IN PURSUIT: Nicole Kidman plays a psychiatrist looking for her lost son in the new film The Invasion things have turned out – and reveals that she constantly doubts her acting ability.

"When I first came to America from Australia I remember driving past the Broadway sign and seeing my name and thinking Who would think that you could come as far away as Australia and have your name in lights on Broadway?"

"They say it can't happen, but it can."

And, of course, it didn't just happen – it happened big time. The star is now the highest-paid leading lady in Hollywood.

But despite the enviable earning power and pick of the top movie roles, it's clear Nicole would trade it all for what she has now – peace of mind and a happy home life.

"It's been turbulent at times," she said. "But I am peaceful right now and enjoying that."

AQUARIUS

(Jan 21 - Feb 19)

STUDYING art forms from different cultures opens up new worlds. There's never been a better time to take an overseas trip. A sexual relationship with an older individual gives life a welcome sense of stability. Best of all, your lovemaking is putting you into great shape. If it's a choice of working for a flat salary or a commission, choose the latter.

TAURUS

(Apr 21 - May 21)

YOU'RE very good at attending the needs of the public. You could find great success working at a restaurant, hotel, or catering firm. It's possible you're falling for someone who is much younger or older than you. You're ready to assume the additional responsibility. Moving to a new neighbourhood could also be in the cards.

LEO

(July 24 - Aug 23)

AN ideal lover could enter your life this week. If you're already in a relationship, this would be a wonderful week to visit a nearby beauty spot. Even a short trip away will rekindle your passion for one another. A serious job gives you the money to afford extra luxuries. Working behind the scenes could be especially profitable.

SCORPIO

(Oct 24 - Nov 22)

THIS is a good week to deal with hospital, religious, or cultural institutions. If you're thinking of buying a home, you could get financial support from such an organisation. You could really benefit from an old friend's experience. Don't be afraid to propose a bold fund-raising idea at a group meeting. A suitor sends your self-esteem into the stratosphere.

PISCES

(Feb 20 - Mar 20)

CULTIVATING your sex appeal will be a labour of love. If you're looking for romance, you could find it at a political rally or business convention. Keep your eyes open for someone who is much older or younger than you. The two of you may share the same tastes. Expressing your creative side could inspire you to take a trip overseas.

GEMINI

(May 22 - Jun 22)

STUDYING religion, photography, or dance could give you a sexy glow. You've been blessed with considerable creative talent, and fostering it underscores your allure. Go ahead and spend a little more than you had planned; your investment will pay off sooner than you think and your prospects for getting a raise are very strong right now.

ARIES

(Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'VE got wonderful instincts with regard to a lover's needs. Take this opportunity to encourage their creative talent. If you're single keep your eye open for a shy person with traditional tastes. Don't be afraid to be the aggressor in this relationship. Looking for a job? You could find one related to journalism, research, or analysis.

CANCER

(Jun 23 - Jul 23)

YOU could receive a gift of money or valuable family heirloom from a generous relative. Take this opportunity to pare down your schedule to only those activities that are necessary or enjoyable. If you cross paths with a romantic interest, be sure to ask for their phone number or email address. Playing the aggressor feels wonderfully liberating.

LIBRA

(Sep 24 - Oct 23)

YOU'LL have the pick of the litter as far as admirers are concerned. When it comes to choosing a suitor, you would be wise to pick the dreamy-eyed artistic type who is a little bit shy. The two of you could enjoy some blissful quiet evenings together. Go after a high profile job with an impressive salary.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov 23 - Dec 21)

WORKING as a member of a team is the best way to realise your humanitarian ideals. Take care to project an attractive image when making a public presentation. If you're not sure what to wear, enlist the aid of a stylish Libra or Pisces. Assert your sexual needs or they may never be met. Fortunately, you're not shy about your desires.

CAPRICORN

(Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU'VE got great instincts when it comes to making money. If you'd like to make a career change, think about going back to school for art, history, geography or sociology. Getting a degree could put you on a whole new path. You could also find love at an educational institution. Keep your eyes open for someone who is assertive, yet nurturing.

Brian's killer moves just not up to scratch

■ BY GEMMA QUADE

HE was first to be booted off this year's Strictly Come Dancing and admitted he was rejected for ballroom lessons as a child – so just where does Brian Capron go now?

"Yes, it's true, I was rejected from ballroom dancing lessons when I was 11," said Brian, otherwise known as Corrie serial killer Richard Hillman.

"My mum wanted me to do the lessons and I got paired with this rather nice 15-year-old girl who thought I was a horrible, greasy-haired nincompoop. After three lessons it all fell apart!"

With this admission, you might wonder why on Earth Brian agreed to take part in this year's Strictly Come Dancing.

Despite having been to drama school, 60-year-old Brian insists he has steered clear of tripping the light fantastic ever since that first foray as a schoolboy. So how come he changed his mind?

"Well, all my friends and relatives seem to absolutely love the programme, and out of all these so-called reality shows it seems to be the one with a genuine challenge," he said.

But the judges hated him – and his professional dance partner Karen Hardy, who was last year's winner with cricket star Mark Ramprakash.

Brian and Karen were slammed and called 'wooden' for their Godfather-themed waltz.

This week a smiling Brian said he thought they were just trying to find fault and they completely missed the irony in the serious, Mafia-style dress and facial expressions the couple chose.

The flip side is that he and Karen have both

MURDER ON THE DANCEFLOOR: Ex Corrie star Brian Capron failed to impress the Strictly Come Dancing judges landed roles as pundits and commentators for the remainder of the series, so they will be there until the end.

Brian had hoped to show people there was more to him than the evil killer in Corrie (or the Grange Hill teacher remembered by most 30-somethings).

"If I had been in for long enough, I think people would have seen I'm a little bit different," he said.

Of course, it's well known that most women find a man who can throw some shapes on the dance floor extremely attractive, and Brian's wife Jackie is delighted with her husband's new skills. But their son, 11-year-old Louis, wasn't quite so keen – Brian says he's not sure ballroom dancing is quite cool enough to get the seal of approval from him.

"My little boy is actually a very good break-dancer, so that's another reason I wanted to do it, to get one over on him," he said.

Now he won't get the chance, of course, and there is a part of him that sympathises with Karen, last year's winner.

"I thought, bloody hell, she's drawn the short straw. But after a time you just put that out of your mind. It's an old cliché, but you just take one week at a time and do the best you can."

Despite being in pretty good shape for a 60-year-old, Brian admitted he struggled with the gruelling training schedule – dancing for at least four hours every day for weeks.

"I'm the only person I know who has never been to a gym in their life. During training you're sweating and you're breathless and you want to stop because you can't do any more, and also your feet and your legs ache so much at night. I wish I hadn't given away that footbath I used to have!"

LIVE AND LOUD

THE KINGSDOWN BAND: The band was formed when Terry Poulson and Roger Cramphorn met at a Kingsdown School function in 1989 and discovered they had both played through the 60s and, notably, both performed at the legendary Top Ten Club and Star Club in Hamburg during that period.

Neither having picked up a guitar for some years, it seemed like a good idea to get together. Two other members were added and a four-piece 60s band was formed.

The Kingsdown Band was the obvious choice for the name, as three of the four guys lived in Kingsdown village. They were fortunate to live in and around Deal as there were several excellent brass musicians in the area, having settled there after leaving the Royal Marines, and a three-piece brass section was added some years later.

After several personnel changes along the way, they now have probably the best line-up the band have ever had and their numbers have swelled to nine musicians.

They are in great demand for weddings and perform a vast range of music covering all decades, from the 60s to the present day.

In recent months the band entertained large crowds at the Picnic On The Green, at the Deal Memorial Bandstand, for Walmer Parish Council and at the Faversham Hop Festival.

They are also playing at Covent Garden in London next month.

See them at Yourkenttv.co.uk and you can visit www.thekingsdownband.com, where you can see a full profile of the band.

Singing guinea pig

Brilliant video of Chubby the guinea pig, who would give any X Factor contestant a run for their money.

George is seen in his back garden, singing a song called Guinea Pig by heavy metal band Fear 44.

It was filmed and produced by Alex Roscov from Rochester and looks set to become a favourite on Yourkenttv.co.uk.

Alex, 25, runs his own video production company Mosh Productions and is a bit of an expert on the Apple Mac.

He said: "It just seemed like a good idea. Fear 44 is a half-male, half-female hard rock metal band from Maryland in the United States."

Bermuda's bewitching beauty

■ BY LAURA SCOTT

SILVER-bearded Johnny Barnes has been camping on Bermuda's Crow Lane roundabout for about five hours each weekday for more than 20 years.

The former bus driver has been spreading goodwill by blowing kisses and shouting 'I love you' at passing commuters and tourists since an epiphany in 1983. He makes for a rather curious sight on an upmarket island famed for a certain degree of cool, colonial reserve.

While Johnny is not overly discerning about the objects of his affection, his welcome does sum up the spirit of an island paradise which many travellers instinctively link to garish shorts and disappearing aircraft.

Even Barry Manilow voiced reservations about the Bermuda Triangle and who am I to argue?

Undeterred by the crooner's warblings, I hopped on a Bermuda-bound plane and was soon totally bowled over by this tiny north Atlantic island.

Bermuda has a big advantage over the Caribbean in its proximity to the UK.

You get a Caribbean vibe and sub-tropical temperatures all within a six-and-a-half hour flight from London or a two-hour return trip from New York, if you tack on a shopping spree in the Big Apple to cash in on the cheap dollar. It's easy to see why the rich and famous and lucky holidaymakers are bewitched by Bermuda.

PARADISE: Bermuda comprises seven main islands

Pretty houses sugar-coated in shades of mint green, powder blue and lemon yellow nestle among lush green palms, their white lime-washed rooftops – to purify rain for drinking water – glinting in the sunshine.

The slightly cooler months from November to March make up the golf and spa season.

Bermuda's hotter season – beach and sizzle – runs from April to October, and is the best time to experience the island's famed pink sand beaches, tinged that dusky rose colour from flecks of purplish coral.

Popular Horseshoe Bay is vaunted as one of the top 10 beaches in the world.

Sea-lovers are offered a plethora of water sports from wind-surfing to jet-skiing, glass bottomed boat tours and swimming with dolphins – but where the local coastline really excels, is diving.

Nicknamed Shipwreck Alley, Bermuda is ringed by 200 miles of coral reefs dotted with more than 300 shipwrecks to explore.

Novice divers can still be wowed by the reef's four-eyed butterfly fish and brain corals by trying 'helmet diving' – a form of undersea exploration where you wade along the ocean floor with the aid of a 'breathing helmet'.

If you haven't brought your sea legs there's always a stroll along the old Bermuda Railway Trail to occupy you, or a horse riding trip with Spicelands Trail Rides.

Bermuda is a chain of seven main islands which form a fish-hook shape with the two main towns located at either end.

The World Heritage site of St George, with its twisting cobbled streets and forts, is Britain's second oldest settlement in the New World and contrasts with the more modern capital Hamilton – Bermuda's commercial centre.

Another highlight of any trip is Bermuda's signature dish of rum-spiced fish chowder.

In fact, the island's famous Gosling's rum is in pretty much everything here and the Dark 'n' Stormy rum cocktail is the perfect way to wash down your Bermudan experience.

As Johnny Barnes might say: "You'll love it."

Charity wild at Dr Martin

WILDLIFE conservation experts at a county animal park have branded producers of top ITV drama Doc Martin irresponsible after a recent episode said badgers could infect humans with tuberculosis (TB).

Bosses at Wildwood, between Canterbury and Herne Bay, were left incensed by the claims and have even called for the producer of the show, Philippa Braithwaite – wife of its star Martin Clunes – to be sacked.

The episode featured a mother and her child burning a badger which they thought had contracted bovine TB on a bonfire.

The charity, which runs the 40-acre animal park, claimed the distressing scene wrongly assumes all badgers carry the deadly and controversial virus.

Trust chief executive Peter Smith said less than one per cent of cases of human TB could be traced to cattle – which it is claimed can catch TB from badgers.

He said: "It is entirely irresponsible to allow these types of story lines to go uncontested."

"It doesn't matter if it is the wife of a famous TV actor who produces the show – we still want her to resign."

"The message they were promoting – that badgers are the main cause of deadly bovine TB – is just wrong."

Mr Smith said the trust had received 20 emails from worried parents whose children had visited the animal sanctuary within 24 hours of the show being aired.

He said: "This message is simply wrong and it will scare future generations of children unnecessarily."

"We have school parties to our wildlife park all the time and it is grossly irresponsible of the producers to insinuate that badgers are the cause of TB."

The strong protest from the wildlife experts is backed by a Government report from DEFRA which earlier this year suspended the culling of badgers.

The move followed confirmation by scientists that there is absolutely no proof that mass slaughtering of badgers led to a reduction of cows being infected by TB.

A spokesman for the show said: "All our story lines are thoroughly researched before filming begins."

"And we have a GP to advise on medical issues to ensure authenticity and accuracy."

"With regard to this particular episode the character of the doctor does actually stress that the chance of a human contracting tuberculosis from a cat or badger is very rare, and that it was conjecture rather than a confirmed diagnosis."

Get ready for rare Fright Night

A LEADING animal centre is promising visitors zombie attacks and terror trailer rides as it prepares to frighten and entertain in its upcoming Halloween Fear and Fun Nights.

The Rare Breeds Centre in Woodchurch, near Ashford, is staging a string of fright nights between October 24-27 to build on the success of last year.

Event manager Julie O'Neill said: "Last year was the first time we held the show and the reaction and feedback from the public was incredible – even visitors that have returned in the summer have been asking about it."

The event includes a glow-lit walk through the Forbidden Forest.

Mrs O'Neill said: "The walk itself can take up to 20 minutes in daytime, but at night by torchlight it can take a lot longer. This is not an event for the faint-hearted."

Visitors must bring a torch and are advised to wear wellies or boots and dress for the weather. The Halloween events run from 5.30pm-10pm.

PROPERTY NEWS

'Northern hot-spots' are closing the divide

THE traditional North-South divide in the current property climate is closing, according to a market expert, with the number of house-buyers moving out of the South East on the rise.

David Bexon, managing director of SmartNewHomes.com, said: "The North-South divide has long been a contested area of debate in the property market.

"However, our latest monthly index reflects the trend of a narrowing gap, with northern hot-spots proving the most popular with new home-buyers and driving up prices.

"Strong inward migration has been recorded, 3.8 per cent in the North and 1.3 per cent in the North West, compared with contrasting outward migration in the South of -4.6 per cent in the South East and -9.5 per cent in London.

"However, despite continued outward migration in the south, generally with an annual price fall of 15.3 per cent in London, it remains the most expensive location to buy a new home.

"The average new home in the South East will cost a new home-buyer 26 per cent more – £310,828, compared with an average of £228,784 in the North West."

Tracker and variable are most popular mortgages

CONSUMERS are confident in their financial security and believe that interest rates have now peaked, according to a new survey.

The Spicerhaart Financial Services monthly survey says that as the Bank of England announced the decision to hold the base rate in the wake of the credit crunch, the percentage of borrowers opting for variable mortgages increased for the third consecutive month.

According to the survey, the proportion of variable mortgages rose to 21 per cent in September, up from 19 per cent in August.

Tracker mortgages in particular are becoming increasingly popular and are at their highest percentage this year, with 19 per cent of borrowers choosing them; this figure is 13 per cent higher than at the same time last year.

Although fixed-rate products continue to dominate, with 79 per cent of borrowers opting for these in September, two-year fixed rates have fallen for the second month to 48 per cent.

The proportion of borrowers opting for longer-term fixed-rate mortgages, of between seven to 25 years, remain relatively stable.

But what about the first-time buyers, Darling?

■ BY DAVE MAIRS

GOOD, bad or indifferent? There has been a starkly mixed reaction to Chancellor Alistair Darling's pre-Budget report, announced last week.

The two issues to provoke the greatest comment were the lack of stamp duty reform and the raising of the inheritance tax threshold.

Robert Bryant-Pearson, chief executive of Allied Surveyors – the country's largest independent firm of chartered surveyors – said: "I am both surprised and frustrated that stamp duty did not feature in the pre-Budget report.

"The current stamp duty system is insufficient and seriously flawed, and the Government has missed an opportunity to revolutionise the system by scrapping existing threshold triggers.

"I firmly believe that the first £200,000 of any property sale should be free of duty and thereafter a single fixed rate should be payable, but importantly only on the amount over £200,000.

"It is ridiculous that currently in a sale at £250,000, the purchaser pays £2,500 in stamp duty, but at £250,001 this rockets to £7,500 because the next three per cent band applies – not just the part above £250,000, but to the entire price."

David Bexon, managing director of SmartNewHomes.com, was equally as scathing about Mr Darling's pre-Budget report.

"The Chancellor has let down first-time buyers across the country, ignoring the potential benefits of scrapping stamp duty for those taking their first step on to the housing ladder.

"While the commitment to longer-term, fixed-rate mortgages will prove valuable in offering vulnerable buyers security, it will do nothing to ease the initial costs incurred when buying a new home.

"The Government needs to take action now and scrap stamp duty for first-time buyers if it does not wish to be responsible for their continued decline. If these buyers stay away, there is a real risk the market will go into freefall."

There was some relief for the Chancellor, however. For example, David Austin, managing director of Property for Life, a property investment consultancy, was pleased to see a higher inheritance tax threshold.

He said: "We welcome Labour's pledge to raise the inheritance tax threshold for couples to £700,000 by 2010. While the majority of buy-to-let investors with a portfolio of properties will not benefit immediately from this change, millions of people are set to be better off financially in the medium to long term."

NO CHANGE: Some professionals in the property field have criticised Chancellor Alistair Darling's decision not to reform stamp duty which, they say, would help first-time buyers

MOTORS NEWS

Advance demands for Mercedes load lugger

MERCEDES-BENZ Kent says orders are rolling in for the new C-Class Estate, although the model is not due in Britain until next spring.

The car group, with sites at Ashford, Canterbury, Maidstone and Tonbridge, has already done brisk business with the saloon version – rated highly by MotorsTV's Steve Loader.

The estate is also tipped to do well, thanks to an impressive 1,500-litre load capacity, some 145 litres more than the previous car.

Other tempting features include the 'Easy-Pack' tailgate, which opens and closes at the touch of a button, stowage compartments with net covers, bag hooks, rings for anchoring loads and a collapsible shopping crate.

LDV dealer adds to presence in county

LDV dealer Channel Commercials has a new dealership at Medway City Estate in Strood, joining existing sites at Ashford, Sevenoaks and Aylesham.

Some £250,000 was spent on refurbishing the outlet and the group's fleet sales director Paul Taylor is pictured celebrating the opening with Caroline Wall, LDV's fleet business manager.

The Strood site sells new and used LDV models – including vans, minibuses and the forthcoming MAXUS chassis cab range – and offers MOT testing and 24-hours-a-day servicing to help keep van operators on the road.

Auto firm highlights case for 'hi-vis' vests

AWARD-winning Gravesend-based auto products firm, Comma, has proved that pedestrians are four times safer when wearing a high-visibility vest.

The research, in partnership with Auto Express magazine, was part of Comma's campaign at www.safeandseen.co.uk to cut the 250 deaths and serious injuries on our motorway hard shoulders every year.

Mat Watson of Auto Express said: "Most drivers wouldn't consider carrying a high-vis vest in their car, incorrectly assuming they will be perfectly visible to passing motorists without one."

ULTRA-GREEN: Volkswagen Polo Bluemotion averages 70mpg and emits 20 per cent less CO2 than its standard equivalent

VW a quick step ahead of slow motion solutions

WHILE the industry grapples with grandiose long-term answers to the waste, pollution and CO2 emissions of cars, VW has just launched a clever stopgap.

So impressive, yet relatively simple, is the ultra-green VW Polo Bluemotion (from £11,995) – first of several Bluemotion VWs – that you ask why the approach has not been tried before.

But it has; VW produced a miser's Mark II Polo in 1983 known as the Formel E – E for economy. The German giant also produced a Lupo city car in 1999 averaging 90+mpg.

The common denominator is higher gear ratios for optimum fuel consumption.

It's not rocket science and nor are other features enabling the Bluemotion to average 70mpg with ease and emit 20 per cent less CO2 than its standard equivalent.

Better streamlining – a re-worked grille and front end, smaller door mirrors and a rear spoiler – also make this Polo more economical and quieter on the motorway.

ROAD TEST VW POLO BLUEMOTION

■ BY STEVE LOADER

STAR QUALITY

Driving appeal	★★★★★
Image	★★★★★
Space	★★★★★
Value	★★★★★
Running costs	★★★★★
Reliability	★★★★★
Green rating	★★★★★

Weight has been pared away too, notably through light yet elegant spoked alloys; returning to key-only central locking and by deleting air-con on the entry-level Bluemotion 1 to save weight, engine power and emissions.

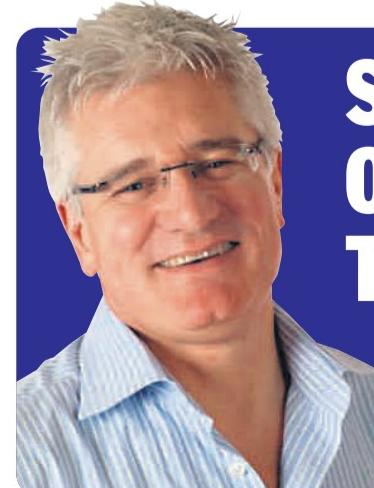

These could have been slashed further by axing power steering, but unassisted parking on modern superminis calls for superhuman muscles, so VW lightened the system and, consequently, the drain on engine and economy.

The steering can feel 'distant', but road-going rally types won't buy this car anyway, especially when they note the harder compound, higher profile tyres for lower rolling resistance – great for economy, but not for hugging bends.

But think of the demand from company car users. Further tweaks should not only make the Bluemotion eligible for zero road tax, but exempt from the London congestion charge.

And you don't have to suffer for helping the planet; the Polo is a decent drive and does not feel gutless even with the higher ratio five-speed 'box.

It also has all the practicalities and virtues of a normal Polo: space, build quality and the extra status that comes with that badge.

USED CAR ROUND-UP:

OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

FIAT MULTIPLA

EARNING top marks with the motoring press for originality when it arrived in 2000, the original Multipla proved simply too wacky looking to generate the sales it deserved. A facelift made it more visually acceptable and its practical qualities began to shine. Relatively compact, it allows six to be seated comfortably and there is plenty of stowage space.

DISTINCTIVE MIDI-MPVs

IN 1997, Renault tried a bit of lateral thinking with the 'people carrier' concept it pioneered with the Espace and came up with the 'midi' or 'compact' MPV (multi-purpose vehicle). The result was the original five-seat Scenic, the blueprint for even more vehicles than the original Espace inspired, and the impetus for waves of tall, space efficient 'MPV styling' across the whole car market. As one of the new car market's boom sectors over the past few years, it means there is also plenty of choice for user car buyers.

CITROEN XSARA PICASSO

NO apologies for including the Picasso - it quickly trumped Renault's pioneering Scenic to become the best-seller in the new sector. It's only a five-seater, but the 'jelly mould design' smoothes the edges of a commodious and flexibly equipped box. The range features excellent turbodiesels and has a good reliability record. Plenty of choice on the used market too.

HONDA FR-V

THOUGH late into this sector, Honda had time to review the market and decided that Fiat got it right with the Multipla. So the FR-V is another short, wide six-seater with two rows of seats, but not as roomy as the Fiat. Buyers like the peace of mind Honda's engineering gives and how the dash-mounted gearshift creates room in front.

What's more, you'll be part of a close-knit team, the prospects for early promotion are superb and you'll learn a whole lot about yourself, too.

Board Member Vacancies

LOCATION:
Whitstable

SALARY:
TBA

COMPANY:
Canterbury City Council

Can you help to shape the future of Whitstable Harbour? Appointment of independent board members Whitstable Harbour lies at the heart of the attractive north Kent town of Whitstable, overlooking the Thames Estuary. The Harbour Board was set up by the Council in 2003 to deliver a strategy for developing the harbour as a self-contained operation offering both high quality marine commercial and leisure facilities. The Harbour is a working operation comprising a basin of 0.61 hectares capable of accepting vessels of up to 3,000 tonnes. There are three quays totalling 470 metres in length together with 4 hectares of adjacent land. In 2006/07 the harbour handled over 97,000 tonnes of cargo (mainly aggregates) from 92 ships and it also has an active commercial fishing fleet. In recent years an increasing number of leisure uses have become established to complement the commercial activities and the combination has provided a vibrant focus in the town for both businesses and visitors. For the first time in many years the operation made an overall operational profit in 2006/07. The Harbour Board, which has been acknowledged as a model of best practice, comprises both elected councillors and co-opted independent members. The term of service of two of the co-opted members will finish in January 2008 and applications are invited for replacement members for a term of three years. Applicants must have an interest in public service and be committed to developing the harbour as a financially self-supporting operation while balancing potentially conflicting demands. Proven skills in marine operations, property development or finance will be particularly welcome. There are nine board meetings a year together with occasional working groups as required. Board members receive a modest allowance and appropriate expenses will be reimbursed. We expect to hold interviews in the week commencing 12 November 2007. MIKE SOUTHON, author of best-selling business book The Beermat Entrepreneur, is the guest speaker at a business breakfast in Chatham next Wednesday.

The MoCo Business Breakfast event, organised by the Kent branch of the Institute of Directors (IoD), will let delegates learn how to stay ahead of the opposition.

The IoD's Frazer Thompson said: "This is a chance to be inspired. Mike is an energetic keynote speaker who will offer a humorous insight into the mindset of a serial entrepreneur."

It takes place at Bridgewood Manor in Walderslade Woods, Chatham, on October 24 from 7.30am.

New course designed for budding businesses

WAITING AROUND: New laws introduced last October have seen one in five employees delay their planned retirement, with many firms keen to help keep these workers on the books

More and more put off retirement date

EMPLOYEES across the county are starting to take advantage of new laws allowing them to postpone their retirement, according to a recent survey.

The new regulations, introduced last October, have seen one in five employees quizzed pushing back their traditional retirement plan, the CBI and business services firm Watson Wyatt survey says.

CBI South East regional director Malcolm Hyde said: "Encouraging the new right to request postponed retirement seems to be working well, and both employers and staff value this flexibility.

"Firms want to retain employee skills and experience, while staff can enjoy a phased retirement, or can continue working flexibly to boost retirement savings.

■ BY ED HILL

"However, this early success is founded on the company's ability to have a final say on an individual's retirement date."

Twenty-two per cent of employees approaching retirement asked for it to be postponed and companies granted almost three quarters (72 per cent) of these requests.

More employees are expected to request postponement and the proportion of firms offering a range of options, including full and part-time work at retirement, has increased since 2006.

Half of employers surveyed nationwide offered the option to continue full-time employment, and 44 per cent allowed employees to continue working while drawing a pension, up from only 24 per cent last year. One in five employers (21 per cent) allowed phased retirement, an increase on 16 per cent last year.

The survey also revealed South East companies remain committed to providing pensions for staff, even though the high cost of funding final salary schemes is damaging business competitiveness and investment.

Mr Hyde said: "Businesses are determined to help provide a decent retirement for their staff and see a good pension scheme as a big advantage when recruiting.

"It is encouraging that staff and businesses are seeing contribution schemes as a valuable vehicle for retirement savings. But too much money is left by staff not joining a pension scheme, or failing to take their company up on its highest level of contribution."

Football centre makes progress

CONSTRUCTION of the new five-a-side football centre at Margate's Hartsdown Park ground is coming along nicely.

Contractors are on schedule to complete the centre in time for the handover date of December 3. The foundations and drainage are complete and lighting and fencing work is under way.

A programme of radio advertising is due to commence, together with local paper and leaflet promotions.

Block bookings for use of the courts have been agreed with Football Mundial, which will launch its five-a-side league programme from the centre in January.

The club's application for a new licence, allowing opening hours to be extended in line with the new centre, will be heard tonight (Wednesday).

The Margate Football Club board has also announced businessman Terry Painter as a new director, and he will be responsible for the Hartsdown outfit's commercial matters.

EQUALISER: James Pinnock scored the third goal during Margate's remarkable comeback from three goals down, but Hitchin hit back to knock Gate out of the FA Cup

Gate knocked out of cup after thrilling fightback

MARGATE'S FA Cup dream is over after another seven-goal thriller – this time it was all a bit too much for the comeback specialists.

Hitchin took the lead after 20 minutes when Tyron Sealey ran down the right channel and his cross into the Margate area was picked up by Mark Duckett, who fired low into Scott Chalmers-Stevens's goal.

On 40 minutes Gate had a chance to equalise, but Rob Haworth's header came crashing back off the bar.

Margate went into the half-time break with confidence, but that was shattered when, five minutes after the interval, they went 2-0 down.

Hitchin captain Nathan Frater received a free-kick 35 yards from goal and struck a wonderful rising drive into the top-right corner of the net.

As Margate looked to gain the upper hand, the home side struck for a third time. From a free-kick into the area, Lance Gentle-King composed himself and fired Hitchin into a three-goal lead.

The Margate comeback started in the 61st minute when Haworth beat his man and fired into the net to give Gate hope.

Then, four minutes later, the deficit was further reduced. Charlie Side broke into the area and got the ball to James Pinnock, who slotted the ball home from six yards.

On 67 minutes, the extraordinary comeback was complete when Pinnock was on hand to pick up possession and fired home for his second of the game and Margate's third.

But Gate failed to hold on and within a minute were a goal down again. Another free-kick was chipped forward into the area and the Blues defence failed to clear the danger, giving Gentle-King the opportunity he needed to slot the ball home.

Margate were forced to play out the final few minutes with 10 men as player/coach Steve McKimm was sent off.

A dejected Trott said: "I'm really gutted. We are leaking a lot of goals at the moment. We had another player back in Justin Skinner on Tuesday, which was a bonus. It is difficult not playing as a settled back four."

"The boys are unlucky because we came back to 3-3 and we played very well."

"People are just digging in and filling in positions for me because I have so many out. I don't think we are doing so bad – people might think differently, but they don't know my problems."

"We are missing a balanced side and changes at the back are difficult to have to deal with."

"We have to get the league form back on track and it is now something else to focus on."

Wanderers still unable to secure first victory

DETERMINED: But Thanet Wanderers are still looking for their first win of the season

THANET WANDERERS are still seeking their first win of the season, but they ran Lydney close on Saturday.

Wanderers welcomed back Gareth Redmond, who replaced injured Joe Browne at scrum-half.

Both teams put on a great display of flowing rugby, with great ball-handling skills aligned with passion and determination.

The game did not start well for Thanet as Lydney ran in an early try from a line-out, 20 metres from Thanet's line.

But Wanderers quickly responded as Stuart Plumridge waited for the perfect moment before releasing Yan N'Dong for the try.

With only 10 minutes gone, Lydney

Thanet Wanderers 20 Lydney 32

scored again after the pack gained 10 metres with a rolling maul.

The ever-faithful boot of Redmond brought Thanet back to 10-14 with a well-taken penalty.

Thanet took the lead after 20 minutes with classic interplay between the backs which led to Pete Macaulay going over for a try. Redmond converted to give Thanet a three-point lead.

Lydney retook the lead just before half-time as Thanet were turned over on the halfway line and were fortunate the referee did not spot the fly-half knocking the ball forward.

The visitors then opened the scoring in the second half with a penalty in front of the posts and then another try. Again Redmond kicked Thanet back into the game with a 25-metre penalty kick.

With 25 minutes left, Thanet continued to pressure Lydney but were unfortunate not to break their lines.

Another Lydney penalty on the hour completed the scoring, although supporters were treated to an excellent display of first-class rugby.

Next week Thanet travel to Portsmouth with confidence still running high.

FOOTBALL

■ BY YOURTHANET REPORTER

Harrow Borough 3-1 Ramsgate

RAMSGATE were left cursing missed opportunities after out-playing Harrow Borough for much of this Ryman Premier League fixture.

The Rams were one down after only eight minutes but managed to get themselves back level before half-time when a corner was headed on by Steffan Ball, leaving defender Nick Davis to force the ball home.

The Thanet side came out after the break with renewed confidence and Jim Ward's team threw everything at the Borough defence but could not get the breakthrough they deserved.

The Rams were hit by a sucker punch when on 56 minutes a free-kick into the box wasn't cleared and the ball dropped to James Bent in the area who gave his side the lead.

The game was wrapped up in the 82nd minute when Albert Adomah rounded Paul Wilkerson to make it 3-1.

Ward said: "It was one of those games where they took the lead and then we got back into it before half-time. Then for the first 15-20 minutes of the second half we absolutely battered them."

"We had four players missing, but it had nothing to do with that. I gave a debut to Stuart King and he did really well and Dean Hill was also back."

Ward said he was not concerned about the club's run of form and pointed to the fact Ramsgate were sitting fifth in the league.

He said: "We're fifth in the league, so why should I be worried?"

"We need a few breaks and if you don't take those chances the other side will score. I could do with getting everyone back, but we are OK."

ASSIST: Rams midfielder Steffan Ball helped create a goal for his side but couldn't find another way through Borough's defence

NO LIGHT: Cliftonville II are still searching for their first win of the season after the weekend's loss

Indifferent Ville are burnt in home match

LITTLE can be said about a game in which Ville had to travel 90 minutes to get to the game but never really arrived.

The Thanet side were without four key players from the middle of the park and it showed.

Burnt Ash played basic hockey and scored an early goal from a short corner when the ball went in off Paul McNally's pads.

Ville replied through Tony Burton and it looked like they were going to storm over the opposition but never got going.

At half-time, Ville were 2-1 down and, looking around the team, it was clear that individuals could not believe how bad the play was.

The players were told by the skipper at half-time to pass the ball and keep it simple, but Ville simply didn't respond to this as a team.

There were good individual performances from Alastair Sutton, who defended fantastically in the second half, and a second goal from Burton showed he was on song, but it was one of those games people would rather forget.

HOCKEY

Cliftonville 3-4 Burnt Ash

After promotion, Cliftonville II are still looking for their first points of the season after losing 2-1 at home to Holcombe IV.

After soaking up pressure for the first 15 minutes, Ville started putting some good moves together and were awarded a penalty close to half-time.

Unfortunately, it was missed and the half-time score was still even. Ville continued the second half with persistent pressure and broke the deadlock through Mark Keenagh.

The home side pressed the self-destruct button and two short-corner goals in the last three minutes of the game left Ville with their third successive defeat of the season.

yourthanet SPORT IN BRIEF

Eight-goal thrashing sees Trinity U8s tame Colts

TRINITY UNDER-8S produced a dogged display as they overcame Folkestone Invicta Colts 8-0.

The visitors seemed to play without a defence as Trinity camped in their half for the majority of the game.

Adam Campbell finally broke the deadlock with a close-range effort and the same player made it two before half-time.

Campbell grabbed another brace before Riley 'Tiger' Mallon secured his hat-trick and Lewis Clarke completed the rout.

Wanderers calling on the girls to give rugby a try

GIRLS' rugby is a sport on the rise as coaches from Thanet Wanderers encourage more girls to take up the game.

Clarendon House, Charles Dickens and Ellington schools have all taken up the offer from Thanet Wanderers to hold after-school tag rugby sessions for girls from the age of 11.

The coaches will be running the sessions for six weeks and, following this, girls will come to the rugby club to compete in a tournament between the three schools on Wednesday, November 7.

Bowls club in call for new players, young and old

BUDDING bowling stars are being encouraged to join Thanet Bowls Club.

The aim of the club is to foster and promote the sport to people of all levels and ages, providing facilities and opportunities for recreation and competition to the whole community.

The green at The Retreat in Ramsgate is open from 10am-7pm weekdays and 10am-6pm at weekends.

The club also offer coaching for bowlers from 5pm-7pm every Monday.

Angling society hoping to hook new members

BIRCHINGTON Angling Sea Society is urging fishermen to attend monthly meetings at the group's Aqua Club in Westbrook.

The meetings are to be held on the last Friday of every month at 8pm, with the first on October 26.

The society is a small-dinghy sea-fishing club and members often fish the waters around Thanet.
